

Blue Room at Roosevelt House

NEW DELHI, INDIA

EverGreene worked with muralist Karen Lukas to recreate the original Rajasthani mural series for the dining room walls of the US Ambassador's Residence in New Delhi, India. EverGreene collaborated with Karen throughout the design and implementation stages to ensure that her original intention was realized.

Work took place over two phases. Phase I was the creating of design samples which included: creating a color palette, stencils and mock ups. Phase II was production, which consisted of printing on canvas and mural installation of the Mughal-style murals onto the dining room walls and ceiling.
